

Practical identifiability: the closed-form transition time is not determined by data of this density

Shaded band is the 95% likelihood interval. A band reaching the edge of the searched range means the data do not determine that parameter.

SYNTHETIC DATA - no experimental dataset exists in this project